In this article I write myself some notes on my usage of Claude on Windows.
It may contain a variety of things that are unrelated to one another.

1 Personal commands

The claude documentation indicates that personal commands can be set in `~/.claude`, but there is no documentation about Windows.

On Windows, the `~/.claude` directory is located in `C:\Users\<username>\.claude`, or `%USERPROFILE%\.claude`.

2 New personal commands

New commands are not automatically added in existing sessions.
One has to restart the session to see the new commands.
